ONE GOOD DEED

Back to Our Roots

1988 When wildfires tore through Montana's Gallatin National Forest (below) and Yellowstone National Park, Country Living stepped in to help. Our staff, readers, and advertisers teamed up with the Arbor Day Foundation and the U.S. Forest Service to plant more than 500,000 pines, spruces, and Douglas firs on 800 acres within Gallatin. The result: a restored habitat for moose and other wildlife.

2014 Those trees are still going strong, but many forests across the country are in need of some TLC. Sponsor the planting of 10 trees in disaster zones from Austin to Minnesota and receive 10 saplings of your own—all for just $15—when you join the Arbor Day Foundation.
